What is Inbound

Inbound is all about attracting customers through relevant and helpful content, and provide value in each phase of the buyer's journey.

Well performed inbound strategies build relations and creates trust for the business.

Moving the focus to the customers challenges and needs.

Enabling the sales team to become advisors.

Avidly's customers in growth

HubSpot's Journey

HubSpot was founded in 2006
At that point a decent Marketing Application

It was built around the Funnel Methodology

HubSpot updated the Methodology in 2018

From Funnel

to Flywheel

The Focus changed from pushing prospects down through a Funnel to setting customers in the center and let them fuel the Flywheel

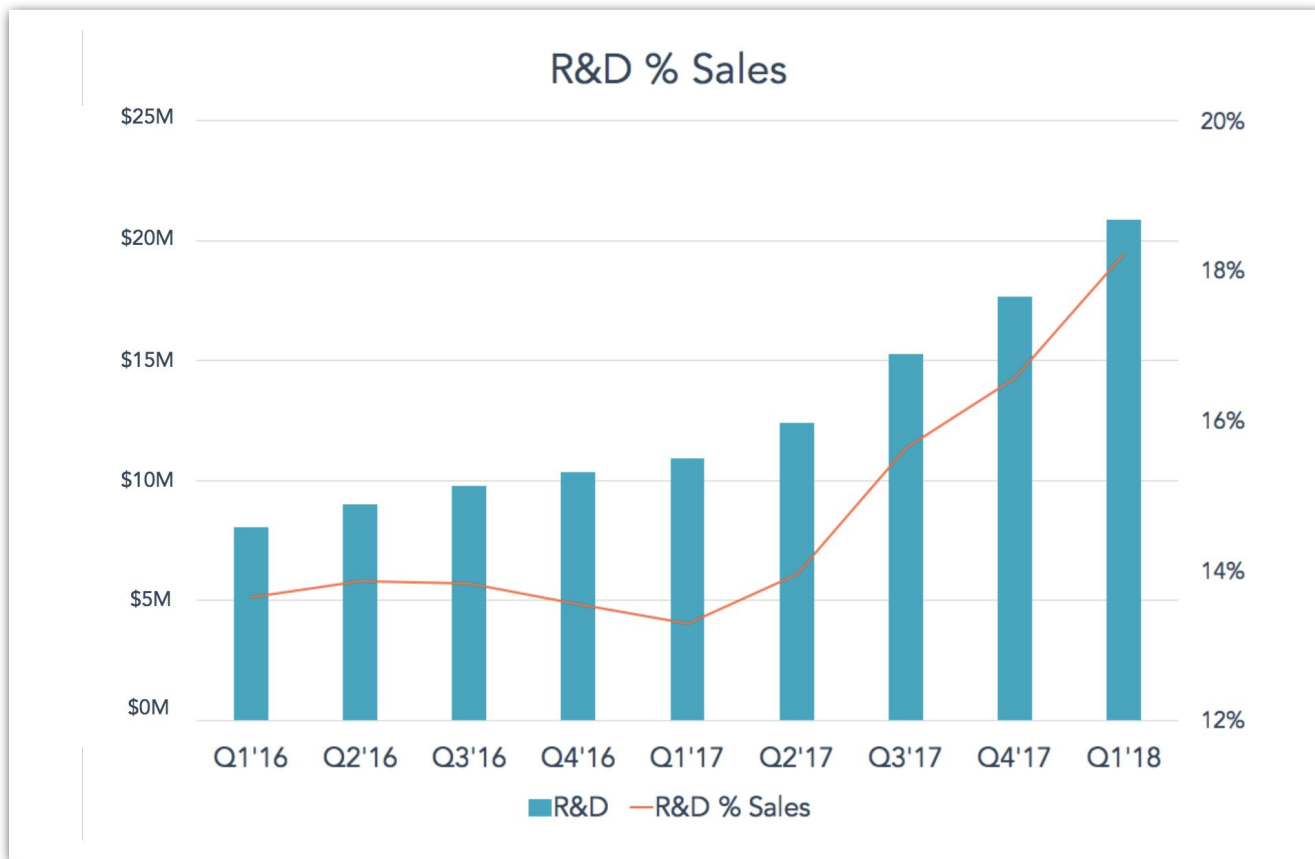

Once the Flywheel is spinning it is difficult to stop

To do that you need to involve both Marketing, Sales and Service departments to support future growth

HubSpot is investing hard in R&D

They have developed a solid tool for each department

All of these tools complete a full growth Flywheel for businesses

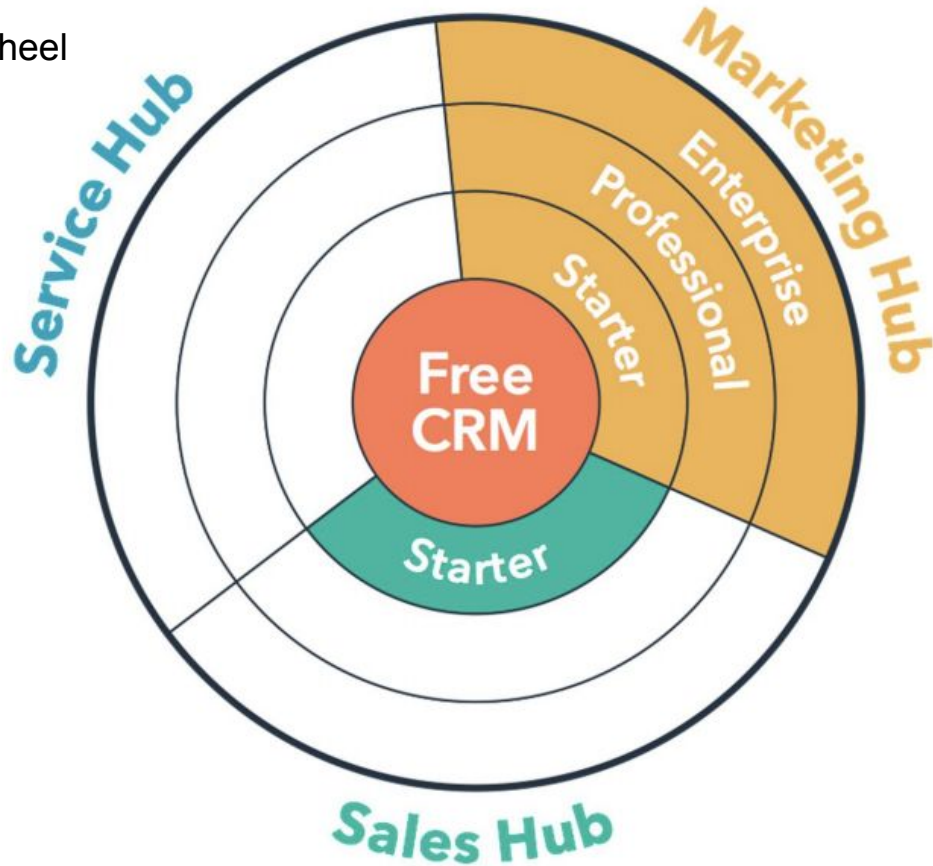

To do so, we evolved from an app to a suite because the customer experience should be seamless.

Leading marketers into tomorrow

#TOMORROWBOUND

Organic growth:
more enterprise
clients and deeper engagements

Benefits of being present in several countries:

- We manage more HubSpot portals than the average HubSpot Partner, but our focus is always on selling solutions
- Greater interest from enterprise customers
- More internationally orientated businesses
- More complex cases that smaller agencies cannot handle: integrations, several offices, specialists in more areas.
