- Record the meeting minutes in the Board meetings;
- Deliver the draft Board meeting minutes to the members of the Board of Directors;
- Be in charge of signing and filing the Board meeting minutes; and
- Deliver the approved and signed Board meeting minutes to the Board members.

6. Meetings of the Board of Directors

6.1 General

The Board of Directors of the Company shall pass its resolutions in the Board meetings.

The Board of Directors shall convene approximately once a month according to the meeting schedule agreed in advance mainly in Helsinki or in other place appointed by the Board of Directors or by the person who convened the Board meeting. The Board of Directors shall hold additional Board meetings if necessary. Teleconferencing or other technical devices may also be used or resolutions can be passed without holding a meeting provided that all the Board members sign the meeting minutes.

The Board of Directors shall annually prepare a meeting schedule for its operations, which defines the essential matters to be discussed in the meetings and the matters that are on emphasis in each meeting.

6.2 Convening the Board Meeting

The chairman shall be in charge of the preparation of the agenda of the Board meetings in cooperation with the CEO with help of the Board secretary. Matters desired to be discussed in the meeting together with relevant material shall be delivered to the Board secretary no later than five (5) workdays before the meeting.

A notice to the Board meetings together with the meeting material shall be delivered electronically to the Board members no later than three (3) workdays before the meeting.

The meeting agenda, the meeting minutes of the previous meeting, the newest monthly report and other relevant documents in respect of the agenda shall be enclosed to the notice.

6.3 Discussion of the Matters and the Decision-making Process in the Board Meetings

The Company's Board of Directors shall discuss the matters presented on the agenda under the direction of the chairman. The regular matters discussed in the Board meetings include approval and signing of the minutes of the previous meeting and the CEO's review. Other matters that are not included in the meeting agenda, may be discussed by the request of a Board member or the CEO. A resolution on such matters may be passed only if the Board of Directors unanimously is willing to resolve on such matter.

Annually directly after the election of the members of the Board of Directors, the Board meeting shall:

- Appoint a chairman and a deputy chairman of the Board;
- Appoint a Board secretary;
- Approve this charter;
- Approve other internal rules; and
- Approve the meeting and annual calendar.

The Board of Directors constitutes a quorum when more than half of the Board members are present. It is required that a notice to the Board meeting has been appropriately delivered to every Board member to constitute a quorum. Inadequacy in the notice will be rectified if all the Board members are present in the meeting or all the Board members approve afterwards the passed resolutions, e.g. by signing the meeting minutes.

The resolutions shall be passed by a single majority of the votes. A chance shall be reserved to all the Board members to attend in the discussion of the matter in order to consider the resolution to be passed in an appropriate manner. In the event of a tie, the chairman of the Board shall have the casting vote. If there is a tie in the election of the chairman of the Board, the election shall be decided by drawing lots. Should a Board member dissent with the resolution of the Board, he or she may present that his or her dissenting opinion is attached to the meeting minutes. The dissenting opinion shall be presented directly after passing the resolution.

Apart from the Board members, the CEO and the Board secretary shall attend in the Board meetings. Further, the chief financial officer (CFO) may attend to the Board meetings in so far as the meeting concerns the Company finance and finance reporting. The CEO, or a person delegated by the CEO and approved by the Board of Directors, shall represent the matters to the Board.

The CEO is entitled to attend to and to be heard in the Board meetings unless the Board of Directors has not otherwise decided in a single meeting. The Company's auditor is entitled to attend to and to be heard in the Board meetings that concern the duties of the auditor.

The Board of Directors shall discuss, when necessary, about the Company and its development without the operative management.

A Board member shall not participate in the discussion of a matter concerning an agreement between the member in question and the Company, nor in any discussion of an agreement with a third party if any substantial benefit is expected to result to the member, which could contradict the Company's best interest, nor in any discussion in relation to the Company or other organization, in which the member in question is a representative or a member of the operative management or the administrative management. The Board of Directors shall consider the conflicts of interest whenever necessary. A Board member shall always him- or herself assess his or her disqualification and disqualify him- or herself.

6.4 Meeting Minutes

In the Board meetings consecutively annually-based numbered meeting minutes shall be recorded. The meeting minutes shall include the time and the place of the meeting and the Board members who were present in the meeting.

Minutes shall be kept short, recording only the passed resolutions. The grounds for the resolutions shall be recorded in the meeting minutes and all the related material shall be attached thereto. Dissenting opinions, votings and Board member disqualifications shall be recorded to the minutes as well.

The meeting minutes shall be signed by all the Board members, who attended to the meeting, unless otherwise decided, and the Board secretary.

A draft meeting minutes not including the attachments shall be delivered to the Board members after each meeting when the chairman has approved the minutes. The meeting minutes shall be aimed to be delivered no later than five (5) workdays after the meeting. The meeting minutes shall be approved in the following Board meeting. The meeting minutes may be fully or partially approved even before the following Board meeting.

The meeting minutes shall be retained in a readable format throughout the existence of the Company at the Company headquarters.

7. Informing the Board of Directors between the Meetings.

The CEO shall be in charge of keeping the chairman of the Board constantly well informed about the status of the Company.

The CEO shall at his or her own initiative inform the Board of Directors about the essential operations in the Company, such as development of the sales, essential changes in the Company liquidity and profitability, significant credit losses and significant supply and other agreements. The profit and loss account and balance sheet of the book keeping, the meeting minutes of the management group shall be delivered to the Board of Directors consequently after the completion of these documents.

8. Presence at the General Meetings

For the realization of the communication between the Company's shareholders and the Board of Directors and the shareholder's right to request information in accordance with the Finnish Companies Act, a sufficient number of Board members shall attend to the general meetings of the Company. All the Board members shall attend to the annual general meeting of the Company, whenever possible, as well as the candidate nominated for the first time to be elected as a Board member. In the extraordinary general meetings, depending on the nature of the matter, a majority of the Board members shall be present at the meeting including the chairman of the Board.

9. Assessment of the Activities

The Company's Board of Directors shall annually assess its activities and working methods. The assessment shall be conducted as a self-assessment. The object of the assessment is to evaluate, how the activities of the Board of Directors have been carried out and how they could be further developed.

10. Orientation of the Board Member

A new Board member shall be orientated to the business of the Company and the Avidly group of companies by the chairman of the Board of Directors in cooperation with CEO directly after the election of a new member.
